

FREE Training and catering

Independent Children's Lawyer Nuts and Bolts training

Friday, 23 February 2024 – 9.15am – 4.15pm

Online: Once registered, a MS Teams link will be provided to you closer to the date of training.
In person: Legal Aid Queensland Auditorium, 44 Hershel Street, Brisbane (limited places available)

The training is designed for ICLs who have joined LAQ's ICL sub-panel in the last 3 years or who want to apply to join LAQ's ICL sub-panel. Experienced ICLs are also invited to attend.

The training will provide practical skills to help practitioners with ICL files. It will also be an opportunity to network and share knowledge and information with the aim of cultivating best practice service delivery as ICLs.

The training will include:

1. General ICL panel information, application process and LAQ's complaints process
2. Grants of aid for ICLs
3. How the ICL can help the court and children in family law proceedings – a practical guide
4. Domestic and family violence informed practice
5. Working with report writers
6. Practical skills around engaging with co-located child safety officers and Queensland Police Service

A full program will be distributed to registered attendees.

Completion of this training is a pre-requisite for an application to join LAQ's ICL sub-panel. LAQ conducts a suitability assessment process for each application for inclusion on the ICL sub-panel.

More information:

familylawservices.training@legalaid.qld.gov.au

Places are limited so register early!

Registrations close 4pm on 14 February 2024.